Identifying Conflicts

Signals · Stages · Facts and perceptions · Conflict history · Root causes · Impact

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

Key Concepts — Identifying Conflicts

1. Conflict is more than disagreement: it arises when one or more parties perceive that important needs, interests, values, roles or resources are threatened.

2. Early indicators include changed communication, avoidance, cliques, repeated rework, defensive behaviour, absenteeism, complaints and declining service or output.

3. The escalation path moves from latent conditions to perceived tension, felt emotion, manifest behaviour and an aftermath that can repair or reinforce the pattern.

4. A fair assessment triangulates accounts, records, observations and context; it distinguishes facts from interpretations and tests alternative explanations.

5. Root causes often combine task, process, relationship, status, identity, resource, value and structural factors rather than one difficult personality.

6. Immediate safety, harassment, discrimination, retaliation or serious misconduct concerns require policy-led escalation rather than informal facilitation alone.

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

TOPIC 1 · EARLY INDICATORS

Conflict is data before it becomes damage

A manager's first task is accurate recognition—not a fast verdict.

Communication

Silence, repeated interruption, sarcasm, side conversations or messages that bypass normal channels.

Coordination

Missed handoffs, duplicated work, withheld information or unexplained decision reversals.

People

Withdrawal, visible tension, repeated absence, complaints or requests to move team.

Results

Quality defects, delay, rework, customer complaints, safety exposure or lost opportunities.

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

From latent tension to observable conflict

Intervene at the earliest stage that evidence and safety allow.

1 — Latent

Conditions exist: scarce resources, unclear roles or incompatible goals.

2 — Perceived

A party recognises an incompatibility or threat.

3 — Felt

Stress, anger, fear or frustration becomes personally experienced.

4 — Manifest

Conflict appears in words, behaviour, decisions or work results.

5 — Aftermath

Resolution, suppression or recurrence reshapes the next interaction.

Stages are a diagnostic lens, not a rigid or universal sequence.

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

TOPIC 1 · EVIDENCE DISCIPLINE

Facts, claims, interpretations and unknowns

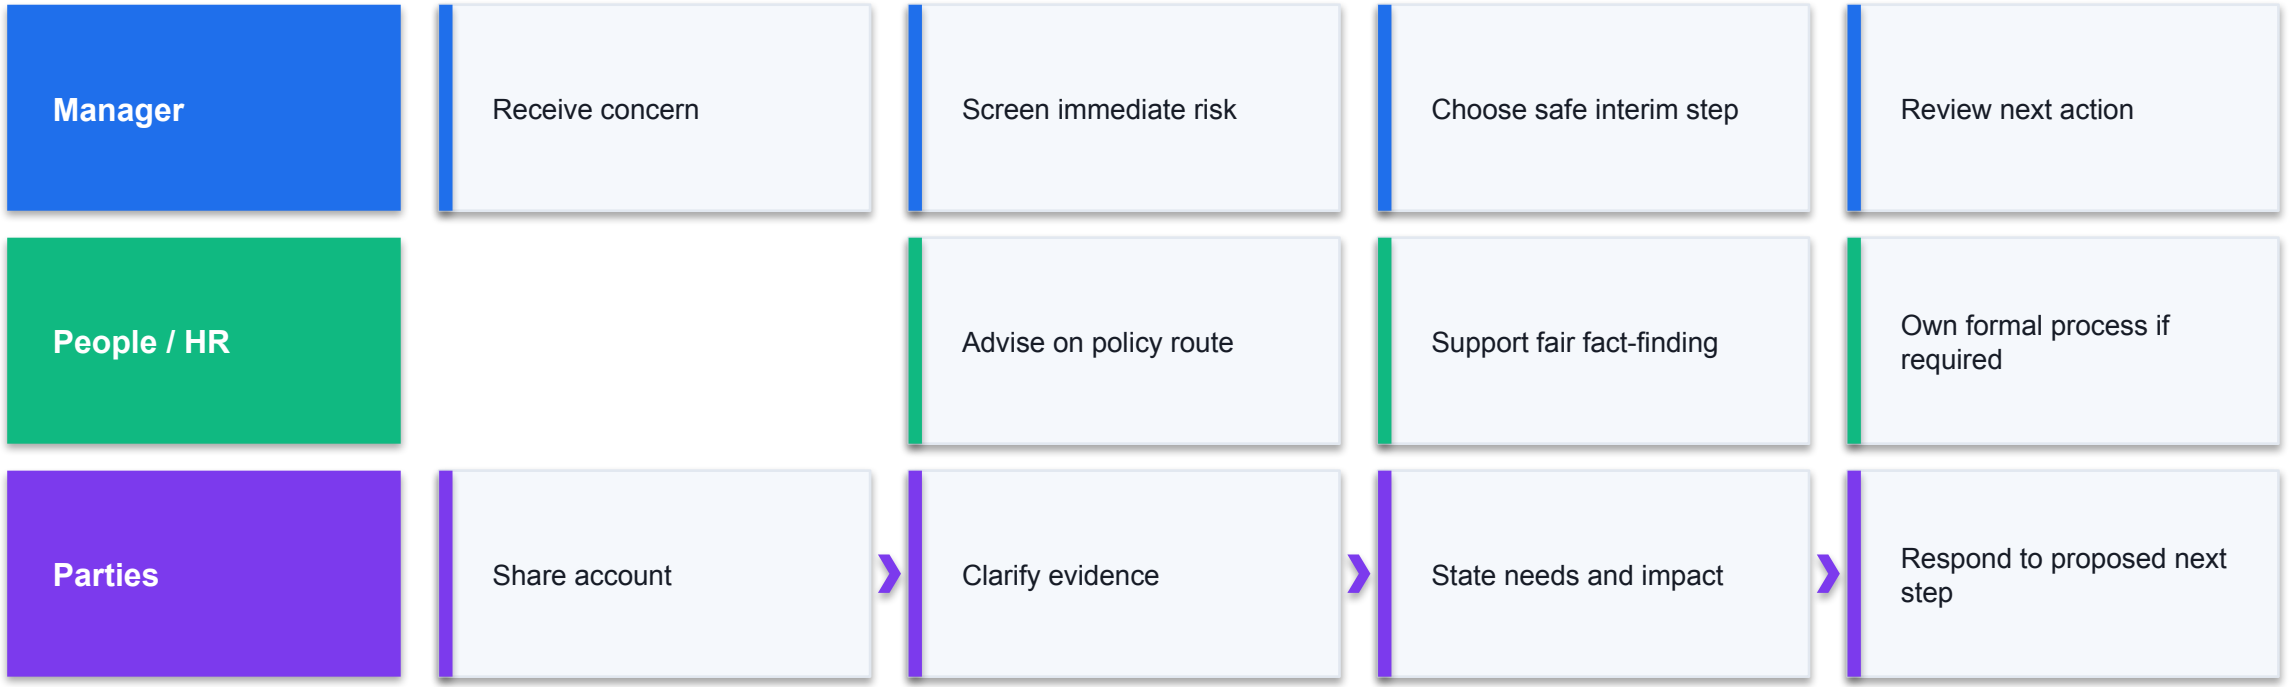

Neutral handling depends on preserving the status of information.

	Weak diagnostic language	Evidence-ready language
Label	‘She is hostile.’	‘She interrupted three times and raised her voice in Tuesday's meeting.’
Consensus	‘Everyone agrees.’	‘Two named colleagues reported similar concerns; five others were not interviewed.’
Cause	‘He caused the delay.’	‘The approval record is missing; two accounts disagree about the sequence.’
Root	‘It is only a personality clash.’	‘The handoff, incentive and decision-right conditions have not yet been tested.’

A fair conflict-assessment workflow

Protection and evidence move in parallel; neither waits for certainty.

Use a formal route when safety, harassment, discrimination, retaliation or serious misconduct is alleged.

DIAGNOSTIC MINDSET

Observe the pattern.

Name what is known, what is reported and what still needs to be checked.

a conflict signal triage

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

What is a conflict signal triage?

Observable signal

What changed in words, behaviour, attendance, quality or customer impact?

Interpretation

What meaning are people assigning to the signal—and what else could explain it?

Immediate risk

Is there a safety, harassment, discrimination, retaliation or serious misconduct concern?

First response

Monitor, clarify, facilitate, escalate or activate a formal process.

Sources: HelpGuide; mindbodygreen; MOM workplace grievances

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

Signal-to-Response Triage

1. Observe
   Record specific changes without labels or blame.
2. Check impact
   Test effects on people, work, customers and risk.
3. Seek context
   Gather more than one perspective and relevant records.
4. Screen safety
   Stop informal handling when policy or urgent protection is required.
5. Choose next step
   Name the owner, timing and evidence needed.

Observation vs Assumption

Assumption

- Aisha is disengaged.
- Ben is sabotaging the rota.
- The team is toxic.
- Everyone hates the new process.

Evidence-ready observation

- Aisha spoke once in three meetings and cancelled two check-ins.
- Two rota changes were made without the agreed approval note.
- Four handoffs were returned and two staff requested transfers.
- Five of eight staff raised the same unclear-priority concern.

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

Triage Decision Matrix

Low impact · low urgency

Monitor, clarify and set a check-in.

High impact · low urgency

Plan a structured conversation and evidence review.

Low impact · high urgency

Stabilise the immediate work issue, then review.

High impact · high urgency

Protect people, preserve evidence and escalate under policy.

The complaints appeared before the argument

REAL-WORLD EXAMPLE

LionCity Retail

A supervisor notices repeated shift swaps, silence in huddles, customer handoff errors and a private allegation of unfair weekend rostering. The correct first move is structured triage—not deciding who is difficult.

Conflict Signal Triage at LionCity Retail

CASE STUDY

THE SITUATION

LionCity Retail's Orchard service team is preparing for a major promotion. Over three weeks, two experienced staff have repeatedly swapped shifts, huddles have become quiet, and four customer handoffs were returned for missing information.

Aisha privately tells supervisor Marcus that weekend duties are being allocated unfairly. Ben says Aisha is refusing to cooperate. Marcus has only fragments of chat messages and no agreed roster-change record. The promotion starts in five days.

LO1 · Topic 1 · T1 · ACTIVITY 1

Conflict Signal Triage at LionCity Retail

DISCUSSION & DECISION PROMPTS

1. Which details are observable facts, reported claims and interpretations?
2. What indicators suggest latent, perceived, felt or manifest conflict?
3. What immediate impact is visible for staff, customers and the promotion?
4. What would make informal clarification unsafe or inappropriate?

REFLECT & DISCUSS

- Did you avoid diagnosing personality from limited evidence?
- Did your first response name an owner, deadline and escalation boundary?

✓ Facilitator debrief check

The triage separates facts from assumptions, screens safety/policy risk and selects a proportionate next action.

Conflict Resolution Strategies

Emotional regulation · Conflict styles · Active listening · Sensitive dialogue · Negotiation · Mediation

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

Key Concepts — Conflict Resolution Strategies

1. The five common conflict styles—compete, collaborate, compromise, avoid and accommodate—are options with different levels of assertiveness and cooperation.

2. Emotional regulation comes before problem solving: notice triggers, lower arousal, check safety and agree when and where to talk.

3. Active listening uses open questions, paraphrasing, validation and summaries to surface needs without implying agreement with every claim.

4. Assertive communication describes observable behaviour and impact, names the need and makes a specific request without attacking character.

5. Interest-based negotiation separates people from the problem, explores underlying interests, generates options and checks agreements against objective criteria.

6. Use a neutral third party when direct dialogue is unsafe, stuck, affected by power imbalance or required by policy; choose facilitation, mediation, conciliation or formal investigation deliberately.

TOPIC 2 · STYLE FIT

Select a response—do not default to a favourite style

Score the situation before choosing compete, collaborate, compromise, avoid or accommodate.

SAFE?

Urgent protection or non-negotiable standard?

STAKES

How important is the substantive result?

TRUST

How important is future working trust?

VOICE

Can both parties speak freely and fairly?

TIME

Temporary response before deeper resolution?

CLEAR: a structure for sensitive conversation

Regulate first; then create a fair path from accounts to commitments.

Cool & check

Readiness, safety, scope and power.

Listen

Equal voice, paraphrase, emotion acknowledgement.

Explore

Impact, interests, needs and shared goals.

Agree

Generate and reality-test options.

Record & review

Owners, behaviours, dates and follow-up.

Validation acknowledges experience; it does not decide that every claim is factually correct.

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

The mediator owns the process—not the outcome

Neutrality is demonstrated through comparable opportunity, questions and scrutiny.

Safety

Check suitability, voluntariness, retaliation risk and formal-process boundaries.

Voice

Give comparable uninterrupted time and an opportunity to clarify or respond.

Reframing

Convert blame into observable behaviour, impact, interests and requests.

Agreement

Record commitments that are specific, lawful, owned, supported and reviewable.

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

Position bargaining vs interest-based negotiation

Move from one demanded answer to several evidence-tested packages.

	Position bargaining	Interest-based negotiation
Focus	Argues for a fixed demand	Explores the needs and constraints beneath the demand
Value	Treats concessions as loss	Trades across differences and creates packages
Basis	Relies on power or persistence	Uses objective criteria, evidence and authority
Finish	Stops at verbal compromise	Records action, owner, timing, review and no-agreement route

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

SENSITIVE HANDLING

Regulation precedes resolution.

A good technique fails when timing, safety or power makes the conversation unfair.

a fit-for-purpose conflict style decision

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

What is a fit-for-purpose conflict style decision?

Compete

High assertiveness, low cooperation; useful for urgent safety or non-negotiable standards.

Collaborate

High assertiveness and cooperation; useful for important, interdependent issues.

Compromise

Moderate exchange; useful when time matters and both can trade.

Avoid / accommodate

Useful for cooling off, low stakes or learning—but risky when overused.

Choose a Style Deliberately

Safety

Is harm, policy breach or urgent action involved?

Importance

How important is the substantive outcome?

Relationship

How important is trust and future interdependence?

Power and voice

Can both parties participate freely and fairly?

Time

Is a temporary response needed before deeper resolution?

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

Helpful Use vs Costly Overuse

Helpful use

- Compete to stop an unsafe act.
- Avoid briefly to cool down and prepare.
- Accommodate a low-value preference.
- Compromise on a temporary schedule.

Costly overuse

- Compete to protect ego or silence dissent.
- Avoid a recurring fairness problem.
- Accommodate until resentment grows.
- Compromise on ethics or safety standards.

Style Selection Cases

Safety breach

Compete/decide now; investigate and learn later.

Shared product risk

Collaborate around evidence and common goals.

Temporary rota gap

Compromise with a review date.

Heated but non-urgent

Pause/avoid briefly, then re-engage.

- Taylor shoots down everything I say.
- Alex cannot take feedback.
- This always happens.
- I want an apology before we continue.

Mediator reframe

- You need space to finish ideas before critique begins.

Managing Team Conflicts in the Workplace

Leader accountability · Team norms · Policy · Fair process · Coaching · Productive disagreement

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

Key Concepts — Managing Team Conflicts in the Workplace

1. Leaders set conditions for productive disagreement through clear roles, decision rights, behavioural norms, open channels and timely intervention.

2. Task conflict can improve decisions when psychological safety and shared goals are strong; relationship conflict and personal attacks usually erode collaboration.

3. A fair process gives each person notice, equal opportunity to speak, neutral fact-finding, confidentiality on a need-to-know basis and a documented outcome.

4. Organisational policies determine reporting, investigation, support, mediation, discipline, appeal, record-keeping and escalation responsibilities.

5. Conflict coaching helps team members notice patterns, reframe assumptions, choose a conversation strategy, practise language and commit to observable behaviour.

6. Managers must avoid retaliation, favoritism, forced reconciliation, premature promises of secrecy and informal handling of matters that require specialist or formal action.

TOPIC 3 · LEADERSHIP

Leaders shape the conditions around conflict

A leader is accountable for both the conversation and the work system.

Model

Regulate emotion, use neutral language, invite dissent and avoid public blame.

Clarify

Set goals, roles, decision rights, handoffs and behavioural expectations.

Intervene

Respond early, protect voice and choose coaching, facilitation or formal escalation appropriately.

Learn

Review outcomes, remove structural causes and track recurrence risk.

COACH: a fair accountability conversation

Specificity plus listening creates accountability without humiliation.

1 — Contract

Purpose, time, scope and respectful participation.

2 — Observe

Specific behaviour, context and impact.

3 — Ask

Perspective, needs, barriers and system factors.

4 — Create

Employee options, leader support and repair actions.

5 — Hold

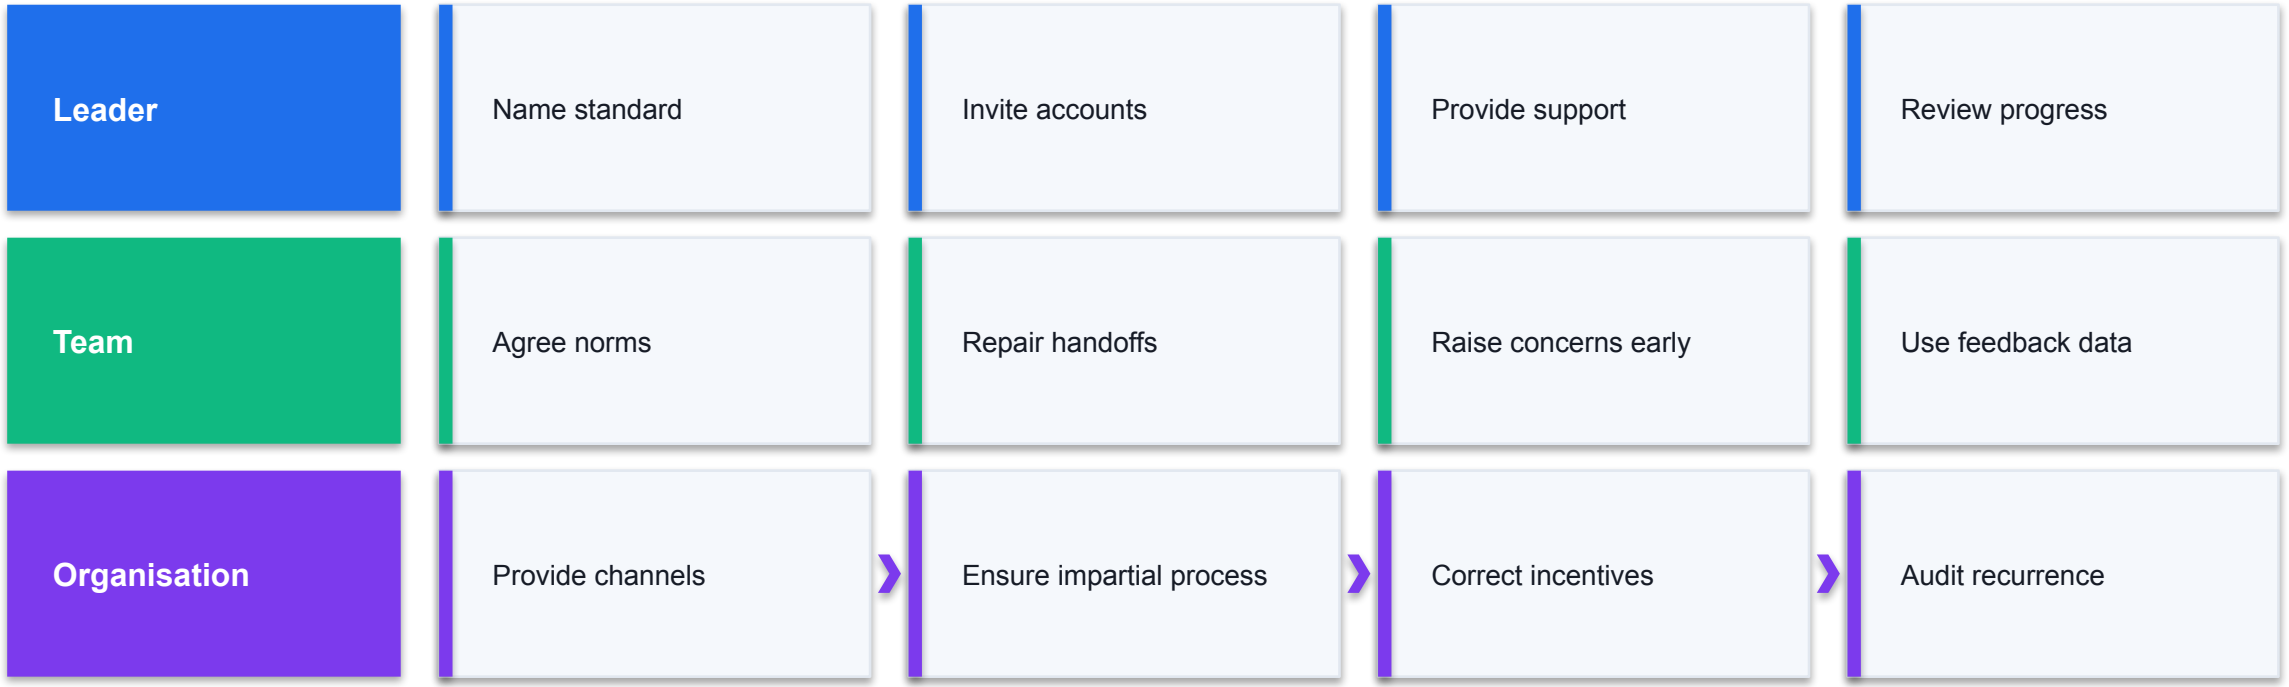

Commitment, evidence, review and escalation boundary.

Coaching must not replace a required grievance, safety or formal performance process.

Team conflict has more than one owner

Durable repair links individual behaviour, team norms and organisational systems.

Psychological safety means people can raise work concerns without interpersonal punishment—not that every disagreement disappears.

LEADERSHIP

Coach the person. Repair the system.

a conflict-coaching conversation

What is a conflict-coaching conversation?

Coach, don't rescue

Build the team member's judgement rather than taking over the conflict.

Reframe

Test assumptions and translate labels into observable behaviour and impact.

Rehearse

Practise opening, listening, requests and responses to likely emotion.

Support

Agree boundaries, resources, escalation triggers and follow-up.

Manager Rescue vs Capability Building

Rescue / direct

- I'll tell them to stop.
- You're right; they are the problem.
- Use this exact script.
- Come back only if it fails.

Coach / enable

- What outcome do you want and what evidence will you use?
- What might the other person see differently?
- Which opening sounds authentic and respectful to you?
- What support and review point will help you follow through?

Coaching Boundaries

Coach

Skill gap, preparation, perspective and manageable interpersonal issue.

Facilitate

Parties want dialogue but need process support.

Escalate

Safety, harassment, discrimination, retaliation or authority limit.

Follow up

Behavioural commitment, work impact and recurrence indicators.

Leader Coaching Huddle at NovaTech Services

CASE STUDY

THE SITUATION

At NovaTech Services, project lead Jordan feels that analyst Alex dismisses project decisions in meetings. Alex says Jordan closes discussion too quickly and uses seniority to override technical concerns.

Department manager Taylor will coach Jordan first, not decide the dispute. Jordan must prepare a direct conversation that protects Alex's voice, clarifies decision rights and sets a follow-up checkpoint.

DISCUSSION & DECISION PROMPTS

1. Which questions help Jordan separate facts, feelings, assumptions and needs?
2. What part of the conflict should Jordan own?
3. How can Jordan invite technical challenge without reopening every decision?
4. Which condition would require Taylor to move from coaching to formal action?

REFLECT & DISCUSS

- Did the coach avoid endorsing Jordan's story as fact?
- Did Jordan leave with chosen language, support and a review point?

Reviewing Effectiveness and Preventing Recurrence

Outcome measures · Follow-up · Recurrence controls · Learning reviews · Legal and ethical safeguards

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

Key Concepts — Reviewing Effectiveness and Preventing Recurrence

1. Review effectiveness against agreed outcomes, behavioural commitments, work performance, relationship quality, stakeholder impact and signs of recurrence.

2. A resolution can be accepted yet ineffective; use scheduled check-ins, observable indicators and confidential feedback to test whether change lasts.

3. Prevention actions may clarify roles, rebalance workload, redesign handoffs, strengthen meeting norms, train staff, improve reporting channels or revise policy.

4. Document only what is necessary, accurate, authorised and proportionate; restrict access and follow organisational retention and personal-data requirements.

5. Singapore guidance supports prompt grievance channels, open communication, fair treatment, trained neutral fact-finding and safeguards against retaliation.

6. Serious harassment, threats, discrimination, safety or criminal concerns must be escalated to the authorised function or external authority; this course is not legal advice.

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

A resolution is effective only if evidence changes

Do not confuse silence, avoidance or a signed agreement with durable resolution.

BEHAV

Are agreed behaviours occurring?

PROCESS

Are handoffs and decision rights clearer?

RESULT

Did delay, error or customer impact improve?

VOICE

Do affected people report fairness and safety?

RISK

Any retaliation, recurrence or displacement?

Course synthesis from supplied conflict-resolution and workplace-guidance sources

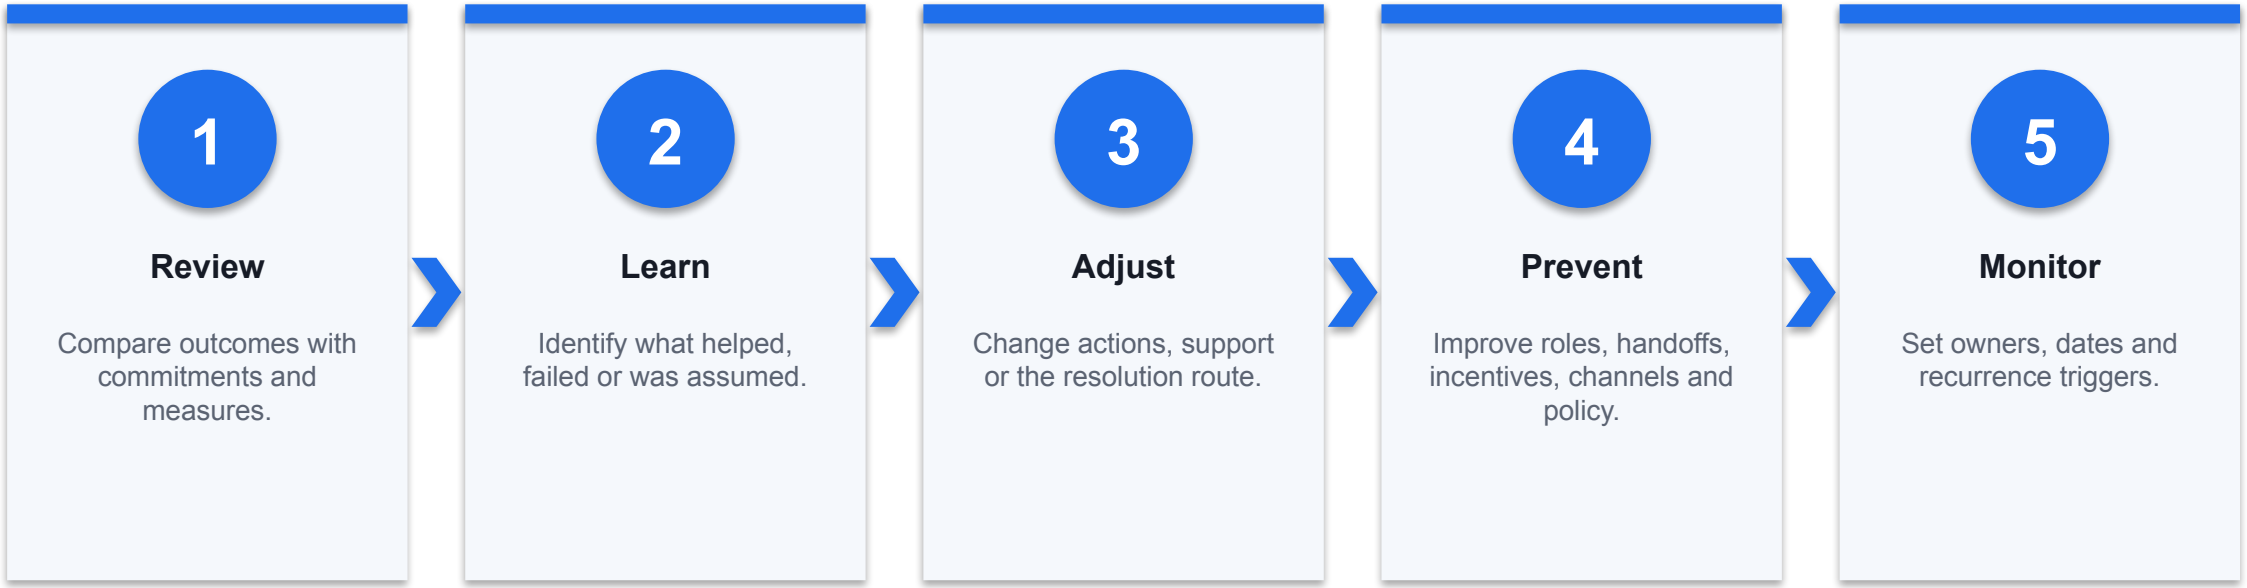

Use leading and lagging indicators; record baselines, targets, sources and owners.

TOPIC 4 · IMPROVEMENT CYCLE

Review, learn, adjust, prevent

Follow-up closes the loop between an agreement and organisational learning.

A partially effective outcome is useful evidence—not a reason to declare success prematurely.

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

Informal resolution vs formal process

Choose the route by safety, policy, power and alleged conduct—not convenience.

	Informal may fit	Formal route may be required
Voice	Parties can participate freely	Threat, coercion, retaliation or serious power imbalance
Conduct	Issue concerns workable behaviour or coordination	Harassment, discrimination, violence or serious misconduct allegation
Urgency	No urgent protection or evidence risk	Immediate protection or evidence preservation is needed
Authority	Agreement can remain within authority and policy	Finding, sanction, statutory duty or independent investigation is required

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

Policy-aligned handling protects everyone

This course provides management guidance, not legal advice; use current policy and professional advice for real cases.

Access

Provide clear reporting channels and an alternative where the direct manager is involved.

Fairness

Use impartial fact-finding, an opportunity to respond and proportional interim measures.

Privacy

Limit personal data to a stated purpose, need-to-know access and secure handling.

Protection

Address safety, support needs and retaliation risk while the process is ongoing.

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

REVIEW

Agreement is a hypothesis.

Follow-up evidence tells you whether the resolution worked and what must change next.

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

What is a policy-led escalation decision?

Fair process

Notice, neutral inquiry, equal voice, evidence, reasoned outcome and appeal route.

Confidentiality

Share on a need-to-know basis; never promise secrecy that policy or safety cannot support.

Non-retaliation

Protect genuine reporters and participants from detrimental treatment.

Proportionate action

Match support, interim controls, investigation and consequences to risk and evidence.

Informal Resolution vs Formal Handling

Informal may fit

- Different work preferences with free participation.
- Specific low-risk misunderstanding.
- Both parties want a facilitated dialogue.
- No safety, harassment or retaliation concern is present.

Formal handling required / safer

- Threat, harm, harassment or discriminatory conduct.
- Retaliation, coercion or significant power imbalance.
- Repeated conduct after prior intervention.
- Policy, law or evidence-preservation duty requires investigation.

Policy, Ethics and Escalation at Meridian Hospitality

Review-and-Prevent Cycle

© 2026 Tertiary Infotech Academy Pte Ltd

Weak Follow-Up vs Effective Review

Weak follow-up

- Ask whether everyone is okay.
- Assume silence means success.
- Review only the two individuals.
- Close the file after an apology.

Effective review

- Check named behaviours and work outcomes against baseline.
- Use multiple indicators and safe private feedback.
- Review workload, handoffs, norms and manager action.
- Assign controls, owners, dates and escalation triggers.

Balanced Review Scorecard

Work

Completion of actions and adherence to behavioural commitments.

Recurrence

Repeat triggers, complaints, workarounds and policy breaches.

30-Day Resolution Review at GreenGrid Engineering

CASE STUDY

THE SITUATION

GreenGrid Engineering mediated a conflict between design lead Noor and site lead Ethan after repeated late drawing changes caused rework. They agreed on respectful language, a 3:00pm change cut-off and a weekly coordination meeting.

Thirty days later, meeting tone has improved and both report less stress, but three changes still arrived after the cut-off. Two were safety-related; one resulted from unclear approval authority. Learners evaluate effectiveness and design recurrence controls.
